Introduction

The Department of Employment Services (DOES) publishes annually a guide, Labor Market Information for Affirmative Action, for government and industry audiences. These are comprehensive tables of data from the censuses of 1990 and 2000 with an annual update for the most recent year available. Together these statistics depict hiring trends in the civilian labor force generally and among women in particular, and by ethnic origin.

Each year, this publication fulfills a critical part of the DOES mission: To plan, develop and administer employment-related services to all segments of the Washington, D.C. metropolitan population.
